DETAILED ACTION

The following is a response to the amendment received on April 3, 2006 which has been entered.

Response to Amendment

Claims 1, 3-5, 7 and 8 are pending in the application. Claims 2 and 6 are cancelled.

-The 103(a) rejection of claims 1-8 has been withdrawn due to applicant amending claims 1 and 4 with limitations not disclosed by the prior art of record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3-5, 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the admitted prior art of the present invention (Figure 2) in view of JP 09-229162. The prior art discloses a differential apparatus for transmitting torque from an output shaft (156) of a driving source (150) to two axle shafts (102, 104) having a differential case (100) coaxially arranged and joined with the output shaft, differential gears (106) connecting the two axle shafts, a motor case (not referenced) for a motor (150) and two bearings arranged on opposite sides of the output shaft and differential case. The prior art does not disclose the differential case and output shaft forming a single and monolithic cast member.

JP discloses a differential having a differential case (19) and a ring gear (20) formed from the same material into a single and monolithic cast member.

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the output shaft and differential case of the admitted prior art a single member in view of JP to provide a high precision differential which is excellent in production efficiency and also since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to make plural parts unitary as a matter of obvious engineering choice. In re Larson, 144 USPQ 347 (CCPA 1965); In re Lockart, 90 USPQ 214 (CCPA 1951).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
